

Our quality of life has been much improved with the implementation of the Do Not Call List. Although we still sporadically do get unsolicited calls we are able to buy-in-large eat dinner without interuption. It is now a pleasure to answer the phone as now we can expect a friend to be on the line. This has been a welcome change.